ASSESSMENT: Out of 100 points

1) A 3-4 page report on one of the theoretical books or articles listed in weeks 1-5 of the syllabus. To be submitted by 4.00 pm on Oct 2. Email it to <prutland> as an attached Word file. [10 points]

2) A 4-5 page paper on a randomly assigned country, due 4.00 pm on Friday Oct 30. You should explain the key elements in country X’s national narrative and self-image: symbols, land, religion, race, heroes, key events, relations with neighbors, values, virtues, flaws, etc. Not a potted history of the country. [20 points]

3) An 8-10 page final paper. Either (a) analysis of a specific nation or nationalist movement; or (b) discussion of a general topic not specific to one country.
The final paper should not be on the same country as the #2 random assignment.
Outline due on Nov 13; email me the paper by 7.00 pm on Dec 15. [40 points]

4) A presentation in which you present and analyze a specific nation’s nationalist politics, in the last two weeks of class. You are encouraged to make an imovie: there will be training in class on Oct 13. The imovie can be on the same subject as your final paper, or on a different subject. [15 points]

5) Class participation and weekly quizzes on the reading. Each quiz will have 1 point for a correct answer, exceptionally 2 points may be given. You can earn extra credit with a 1-2 page report on outside lectures, to be emailed to me within one week of the event. [15 points]

Books to buy (two are available free as ebooks):

Ernest Gellner Nations and Nationalism (1983)
Benedict Anderson Imagined Communities (1983)
Amy Chua World on Fire (2004)

Required readings are marked with *. All the other readings are optional, useful for your papers.
All the articles listed on the syllabus are available on the course’s Wesfiles page.
I only use Moodle to post grades.
Unexplained absence from three classes will be treated as withdrawal from the course.
Plagiarism, using material that you did not write and without clear attribution to the source, will be punished.
You can bring a laptop to class, but if I catch you emailing or web surfing I will ask you to leave.

Sept 8  WHAT IS NATIONALISM?

For an overview of the course theme, see:

What is ethnic identity? How does it relate to other types of identity?
A review of some classic sociological and anthropological articles on this question.

* Ernst Renan  ‘What is a nation?’ (1882)
* Max Weber  ‘Ethnic groups,’ in Economy and Society, v. 1, 385-98
  Fredrik Barth  Ethnic Groups and Boundaries (1969) 9-38
  Thomas Eriksen  ‘What is ethnicity?’, Ethnicity and Nationalism (1999) ch 1

Sept 10  OBAMA NATION

What does it mean to be American? As the ‘first new nation’ the US sees itself as a new type of civic nation based on political consensus rather than ethnic identity. How does American patriotism differ from other peoples’ nationalism?

* Minxin Pei  ‘The paradoxes of American nationalism,’ Foreign Policy, May 2003
* Graham E. Fuller  ‘America’s uncomfortable relationship with nationalism,’ Stanley
  Foundation Policy brief, July 2006
* Martha Nussbaum  ‘Patriotism and cosmopolitanism,’ in Joshua Cohen (ed) For Love of Country (1996)

* Samuel P. Huntington  ‘The Hispanic challenge,’ Foreign Policy, March 2004

Sept 15  NORTHERN IRELAND

We start by looking at Ireland and Quebec: tough cases where nationalism has led to persistent conflict. Note the contrasting roles played by religion and language in the two cases.

What was driving the conflict in Northern Ireland? Why did peace arrive when it did? Will it last?

* Richard Rose  ‘Northern Ireland: The irreducible conflict,’ in Joseph Montville,
  (ed) Conflict and Peacemaking in Multiethnic Societies (1990), ch 9

ETHNICITY IN THE PRE-MODERN WORLD

What was the character of ethnic identity before the emergence of the modern state? ‘Primordialists’ or ‘perennialists’ consider ethnicity to be a universal human characteristic. Diaspora nations such as the Jews and Armenians exemplify one type of primordial identity.

FUNCTIONALIST THEORIES

(a)  GELLNER

Is nationalism a pre-requisite for capitalism and the modern state? Why did nationalism arise in 18th century Europe? Gellner explains nationalism as integral to the project of modernity, a by-product of the spread of mass communications and industry. Smith offers a critique of Gellner.

* Ernest Gellner  Nations and Nationalism, esp. chs. 2 and 3

Anthony Smith  Nationalism and Modernism (1998) chs 1, 2  [e-book]

Eugen Weber  Peasants into Frenchmen (1976) 3-22
Sept 29 (b) HOBSBAWM

Discussion of Hobsbawm’s approach. Did capitalists need the nation-state to organize their production, to seize and unify markets, and to divert their workers from socialist revolution? Consider the paradigm cases of Britain and France in the 17-19th centuries.

Oct 1 (a) IN-CLASS DEBATE (first half of class):

“This house believes that nationalism is a product of modernity and may recede as quickly as it appeared.”

Oct 1 (b) NATIONALISM AS CONSTRUCT (second half)

Anderson sees nationalism as an artifact constructed by elites, and goes beyond Europe, looking at the spread of nationalism to the 19th century colonial world.

Friday Oct 2 FIRST ASSIGNMENT DUE

Write a 3-4 page critical review of one of the core theorists (Smith, Gellner, Connor, Hobsbawn, Anderson). Email it to <prutland> as an attached Word document by 4.00 pm.

Oct 6 ETHNICITY AND NATIONALISM IN AFRICA

Decolonization led to a surge of nationalism. But ethnic complexity has made the construction of viable states in post-colonial Africa very difficult. Still, ethnicity is not necessarily destructive, it is also used by people to defend their political and economic interests.

Oct 8 RWANDA

Rwanda is the most vivid recent example of the power of ethnicity to bring about evil. Yet Rwanda in some crucial respects is not typical for the African continent.

Oct 15 THE SOVIET COLLAPSE

What was Soviet nationality policy, and why did the country fall apart in the late 1980s? The collapse of communism in the early 1990s and the spread of democracy coincided with an upsurge of ethnic violence. Why was this? Snyder offers one explanation.

Oct 24-27  NO CLASS – FALL BREAK

Friday Oct 30  SECOND ASSIGNMENT

Write a 3-4 page profile of the national narrative and/or ethnic conflicts in a randomly-assigned country. You should explain the key elements in country X’s national narrative and self-image: symbols, land, religion, race, heroes, historical events, relations with neighbors, values, virtues, flaws, etc.
Email it to <prutland> as an attached Word document by 4.00 pm.

Oct 29  NATIONALISM AND THE LOGIC OF THE MARKET

Why and how do markets encourage and consolidate ethnic identification?
Amy Chua picks up the theme of vulnerable ‘middleman minorities’ in the globalizing economy. The classic article by Bonacich explains ethnic segregation in the division of labor.
Rodrik makes an economic argument for the persistence of the nation-state in a global economy.

Nov 3  (a)  IS THERE A EUROPEAN IDENTITY?

What does it mean to be European? The economic success of the European Union has not led, as some had hoped, to the emergence of a strong European identity replacing national identities.
Did the Eastern enlargement in 2004 and 2007 undermine the prospects for a new Euro identity?
What are the chances that deeper political integration may create a real European identity?

MOSLEM MINORITIES IN EUROPE

A look at Moslem immigrants in Europe, taking the French ‘veil controversy’ as our initial case. There are controversies over Moslem rights from dress codes to marriage practices to mosque building, and political violence from street protests to terrorism. The topic has also provoked broader debates about what it means to be British, German etc., and new citizenship laws.

CHINA

Chinese nationalism surged in response to Western incursions in the 19th century, then was displaced by communism, and then returned in the 1990s at both elite and mass level. Does contemporary China’s nationalism conform to or depart from Western models?

JAPAN & KOREA

Japan

Japan was the first non-European country to successfully embrace the European nation-state model. However, that led to disaster in 1945, after which Japan reinvented itself as a trading nation. In the post-cold war world, is Japan about to undergo a third transition?

Korea

Divided between North and South, and under strong influence from China, Japan and now the US, Koreans exhibit a robust national pride. But finding a clear political expression for that nationalism in such a challenging international environment has proved very contentious.

Nov 19  THE INTERNET AS A PLATFORM FOR NATIONALISM

The internet and social media are seen as having played a pivotal role in mobilizing popular protests during the Arab Spring. Can it similarly be used to forge new nationalist movements? Evidence is mixed. Some diasporas use the web to create transnational political lobbies, but within individual countries the state and traditional media still seem to have the upper hand.

Nov 17  GLOBALIZATION AND NATIONALISM

In the post-Cold War world some argued that the explosion of trade, migration and information flows across state borders means that multiculturalism and cosmopolitanism are replacing nationalism as the norm in developed societies. But we also see a resurgence of religious fundamentalism and radical nationalism in many countries, along with ‘banal’ expressions of national identity in everyday life.
