1. Read the whole article.

2. Which company Fairchild (in its prime) or Intel appears to have been more successful from a business point of view? From a social point of view?

3. Give an example of a modern company that seems more like Fairchild than Intel.