

Book symposium Joseph Rouse – Articulating the World: Conceptual Understanding and the Scientific Image

March 9-11, 2016

Free University Berlin

Organizers: Jan Slaby, Jörg Volbers, Philipp Haueis

Organizing Institutions: Collaborative Research Center Affective Societies; Free University Berlin, Institute of Philosophy; DFG project (Jörg Volbers)

Venue: Lecture hall in the Philosophy Institute, Habelschwerdter Allee 30

Tentative schedule (times and titles might change)

Wednesday, March 9, 2016

13.00 Uhr: Opening remarks (Jan Slaby & Philipp Haueis)

13.30 Christoph Demmerling & Dirk Schröder (Jena) – Rouse in Context

14.30 Mark Okrent (Boston) – Naturalizing Intentionality

15.30 Coffee Break

16.00 Markus Wild (Basel) – Biosemantics and Intentionality

17.00 Philipp Haueis (Berlin) – Human and animal intentionality in the Anthropocene: a critical evaluation of discursive niche construction

18.00 Hans-Jörg Rheinberger (Berlin) – ‘Articulating the World’ from a History of Science perspective

20.15 Dinner (location tba)

Thursday, March 10, 2016

09.30 Mathew Ratcliffe (Vienna) – Modality and Naturalism

10.30 Jörg Volbers (Berlin) – The Unboundedness of Articulation

11.30 Coffee break

12.00 Rebecca Kukla (Washington, DC) – Ontology and Niche Construction

13.00 Lunch break

14.15 Jaroslav Peregrin (Prague) – Normativity in the Evolved World

15.15 David Lauer (Berlin) – Conceptual Normativity and the Second Person

16.15 Coffee break

16.45 Hanne Anderson (Aarhus – still unconfirmed) – tba

20.15 Conference dinner (location tba)

Friday, March 11, 2016

- 09.30 Uljana Feest (Hannover) – Conceptual articulation and the experimental creation of phenomena: the role of scientific method(ology)
- 10.30 Andrea Woody (Seattle) – Configuring normative spaces: Research agendas, conceptual articulation, and technologies for representation
- 11.30 Coffee break
 - 12.00 Jan Slaby (Berlin) – Political Philosophy of Science and the Scope of Naturalism
- 13.00 Lunch break
 - 14.15 Joseph Rouse (Middletown) – Comprehensive Response and Outlook
 - 15.30 Final Discussion
- ca. 16.00 End of the workshop